NOTES.

(a) Recommended as best in the "Modern Chess (a) Recommended as best in the "Modern Chess of the organization and to raise homey on help along the Instructor." Apparently it is not as aggressive as 3 struggle of Mr. Parnell to re-establish binself at the head P.—Q 4, but its tendency is to prevent Black from getting an open diagonal for his K—B and to confine the same for a long time, which object is we believe better affected by the text move.

(b) As Black has loosened his Q-P by his third move, the present advance is fair play, but generally P-Q 3 is a shade better, and the pushing of the Q-P further should be reserved until preparations are made by P-O B 3 for forming a centre

Hanham persistently favors Philidor's Detence for the second party to the King's Knight opening. though he stands quite alone among modern public players with his partiality for that debut. But in the course of his continuous practice of this defence he has developed some new ideas which no doubt are difficult altogether of a walting character. The last move is one of his tanovations, but as it previously makes necessary the weakening of the Q-P, it will hardly recon cile leading masters with the cramped position which Black obtains by this defence.

(d) A line of development which was first recommended and practised by an English amateur, Mr. Lord, already on Black's third move in reply to 3 . . . P-Q 4. Mr. Hauham usually adopts it at various stages of this

But it is also worthy of notice that if 12 Kt x P. 12 Q Kt-K 4, followed by the exchange of both Elshops for the Knights, with the superior game, for White will be compelled to retake with the K B P when Black captures the Q B, and thus an ugly isolated and doubled centre P will be formed on White's K file.

Chess Editor of The New-York Tribune.

Dear Sir: Enclosed please find solution of Problem No. 38. We receive The Tribune the sixth or seventh day from date, and away in the mountains enjoy the chess problems very much. I think No. 37 is the most ingenious of all. I am able to solve about one in four. I learned to play chess in 1854 in this county of my husband, and new am teaching the game to my grandson. Yours truly.

PLEASANT TRIPS BY THE IRON STEAMBOATS. Pier No. 1, North River, is a pleasant place when the sun shines and the paneraha of narine activity stretches out before the Iron Steamboat Company's passengers while waiting for the beat. And the trip down to the Iron piers at Copey Island is pleasant also. So is the longer ex-cursion to Long Branch by the good ship Tauros, which nd having a good day's work of it till she ties up at night While the days are long ones for the steamboat people, the travelling public take advantage of the time, and the storny days even are often selected for a trip, when there is a big sea running and there is excitement while landing g But the soft air of the cummer, the invigorati Branch, and the resorts on the beach between Sandy Hool and the orean pier, are attractions, and the Iron stambouts are the only ones running on the all-water routes.

A BEAR KNOCKS OUT A BATHER.

TWO UPPER-CUTS FROM BRUIN ENOUGH FOR HIS TANTALIZER.

There was an exciting man and bear fight at South Beach, Staten Island, Saturday evening, which came near terminating disastrously for the man. A French nan from New-York, named Gilholm Issches, patrolling the beach with a big performing bear. rasionally the man would stop and put the bear brough a series of tricks, then take up a collection and pass on to another crowd. He reached Mrs. Miller's hotel, in front of which there was a large party of bathers. They came out of the water and began musing themselves by tantalizing the bear.

One man, named Samuel Gibson, of New-York, was He would drop specially funny and aggressive. is hands and knees and crawl up to the bear, growling and gesticulating, and when the bear stood upon his hanneles to receive him cordially he would jump aside. The bear seemed to regard it as a good joke until Gibson began throwing wet sand in his face. The Frenchman warned Gibson, but he paid no heed trusting in the rope by which the keeper held the Finally he threw two handfuls of sand into the bear's face, filling its eyes and mouth. An exciting onflict immediately followed. Bruin made two victors basses at Gibson, catching him with one huge paw fairly on the law, and with the other on the shoulder tearing the flesh in both places with his claws and causing the blood to flow freely. Gibson started to un and the crowd scattered immediately.

The Frenchman tugged at the rope with little suc The Frenchman tugged at the rope with little success and Gibson was obliged to plunge into the water to escape, but the bear followed, pulling the Frenchman after him. Others got hold of the rope and held the bear until Gibson swam out of reach.

Gibson made complaint to Constable Fitzpatrick, who arrested Issches and the bear and took them before Justice John J. Vaughn, who has an office on the beach. Justice Vaughn imposed a fine of $50 on lissches, in definal of which man and bear were committed to the police station at Suspleton. Respectable eye witnesses say that Gibson should have been arrested for cruelty to animals. Gibson's injuries are not serious.

THE WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

SOVERNMENT REPORT OF THE CONDITIONS PREVAILING FOR A WEEK. Washington, Aug. 1 .- The following is the weather

PREVAILING FOR A WEEK.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The following is the weather crop bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau.

Temperature—The week was cool in all regions east of the Rocky Mountains, except along the Julic Coast, including Southern Georgia and the greater portion of Texas. In the northwest and in states north of the Ohlo Valley, including the entire lake region, the daily temperature was from six to eight degrees below the normal. The same conditions provalled over New York and Pennsylvania and the greater portion of Arkansas. The mouth of July has been cooler than usual in all districts east of the Rocky Mountains, the daily temperature for the mouth being from four to six degrees below the usual July temperature throughout the corn and spring wheat regions, while in the cotton region the daily deficiency ranged from two to four dogrees. The seasonal temperature from January I, to July 31 continues slightly in excess in the northern States east of the Missisippi, but this excess is due to the high temperatures which occurred before the growing season.

Precipitation—There has been more min than usual for the week generally along the Atlantic Coast, in the interior of the Southern States, and at Rocky Mountain stations. The greater portion of the cotton region has received unusually heavy rains during the week, although Louisiana and Southern Texas received less than the normal rainfail. These heavy rains, with cool weather, have doubtless proved unfavorable to growing crops. The principal corn and spring wheat states received less than the usual amount of rain during the week, although well distributed showers are reported from these sections. These sections also received less rain than usual during the month of July except in Kanses, and Western Nebraska, where the monthly rainfail was deficient.

General Remarks—New Jersey—Well-distributed rains improved all crops greatly, but the maturing of vine truck has been retarded by the cool and cloualy weather. Specifically, Some sard peans continue in good ed rains.

Assw-England-Hay and grain narvest has been de-layed by unfavorable weather; grain somewhat injured by heavy rains and high winds. Wormer weather is needed, though all crops are making rapid growth. Tobacco is in good condition.

Towa-Weather generally favorable for harvesting and threshing. Hay crop is heavy and the prospects are flattering for flax and potatoes. Corn is doing fairly well.

North Carolina-The weather conditions were de North Carolina—The weather conditions were de-eddedly unfaverable to crops. Cotton is growing to weed; is not fruiting well; beginning to shed and be-coming grassy. In the western districts more favor-able conditions prevailed and crops are improved. A local hall-torm in Stokes County did some damage. Alabama—Too much rain for cetton; in the south-western counties in sects are attacking the crop. Corn bas been benefited.

s been benefited. Nebraska-Rather unfavorable weather condition Nebraska—Rather unfavorable weather conditions prevailed; too cool for rapid growth of corn, which is not at least diffeen days late. Threshing has begun in the southern portion and a lorge yield is indicated. Illinois—The weather conditions affected corn and pastures injuriously, the rainfall being badly distributed. Wheat and oats are yielding well. Water is getting scarce. Ploughing for wheat has begun. Pennsylvania—A violent wind, rain and ball storm on Tuesday, and a general rain on Wednesday, damaged crops in portions of York, Lancaster and Berks Counties. Elewands rained for favorable. Tebacco Tooks well.

aced crops in portions of York, ballender, and expensive. Elements redords for favorable. Te-bacto Looks well.

Michigan—The weather has been too cold and dry for growing crops; warm soaking rains needed. A hight frost in interior counties on the 27th inflicted slight domage to corn on lowlands.

Virgitia—Warm, sunshiny weather needed. Corn and tobacco doing well. Some damage to melons, porators and surpes by wet weather.

Otho—Notwithstanding the cool weather crops gonerally bave been benefited. Corn and potators are very premising, outs are ready for harvest and promise a large crop.

Wisconsin—The drouth continues severe in eastern canaties. Considerable damage is reported by chinch bugs. Outs show a marked improvement and promise a good crop. A fair crop of bariey has been increasers counties. Corn is not as promising as formerly.

Local showers have been very beneficial, chemic min is needed within two weeks to full cotton crop. Bull worms are reported as localities in Northern Texas. Other crops

A PROSPEROUS OUTLOOK IN KANSAS.

Kansas City, Aug. 1,-"The Star's" Topeka, Kan, dispatch says: Major R. Hurst, of the State Live stock Commission, has prepared a statement showing the probable corn yield and the revenue the State will derive from corn, cattle and other sources. He I think it is a conservative estimate to say that the people of Kansas will sell within the next year, $100,000,000 worth of stock and farm products raised this year. I mean that that much of Kansas grain and stock will go outside of the State besides grain and stock will go black. The total corn crop of the what we use ourselves. The total corn crop of the State this year will not be less than 250,000,000 The acreage is less than two years ago be cause of the increased acreage of wheat in the western part of the State. The poorest corn is in the north restern part of the State, particularly between Howard County and Emporia. In the Arkansas Valley and lowley. Sumner, Harper, Sedgwick, R no and King man Countles the corn is simply immense. I never saw any such corn anywhere. There are fewer hogs the state this year, and for that reason the great bulk of our corn must go to Eastern markets. There are about 3,000,000 head of cattle in the State in good condition and are worth fully $00,000,000. The cattle which will be shipped from Kansas this year will be better fed and larger than usual. A greamany of the farmers in Kansas will get out of debt this year."

AN INTERESTING WHIP LIBEL CASE. Boston, Aug. 1 (Special).—An interesting opinion wa

given by Judge Nelson to-day in the libel by the Miners' Oil and Supply Company for supplies furnished to the British steamship stroma at New York, in August, 1898. The Stroma was then under charte one James Brown for twelve months, from August , 1885, at a stipulated lifre of $400 a month. The applies were such as would be entirely consumed the proscention of the then intended voyage of the vessel, and were necessary for the voyage, but by he terms of the charter party they were to be provided and pold for by the charterer. The libel averred that the supplies were furnished upon the order of the master of the stroma and upon the credit of the ship, The supplies were charged to the ship and owner of he libellant's boat.

lants have failed to prove that the supplies in question were farnished upon the order of the master of the stroma or upon the credit of the ship, though it appears, perhaps, on the list of supplies made our by the master and handed to the agent of the libellants It also appears that the supplies were ordered by Brown. the charterer, and were firmished upon his credit alone. There being no ground for holding the ship Hable for the supplies, the libel is dismissed with costs.
